Continuation of 10. Other (including any explanation in support of the above items): 4: The "Summary of the Claimed Subject Matter" must be a concise explanation of the subject matter defined in each of the independent claims involved in the appeal. Basically, it should be a "map of the claims," with the specification referred to by page and line number, and the drawings referred to be reference characters. It should not include extraneous matter such as figures, narrative explanations and/or argument.

5: A proper statement of grounds or rejection presented for review should have the form: "Whether claims X and Y are unpatentable under 35 U.S.C. 103 over Smith in view of Jones." It should be a simple, one-line statement, and should not include, for example, reasons the Appellant thinks the rejections should be reversed (e.g., "lack of disclosure," "lack of teaching," etc.).
